TREAT YOURSELF IN... MEXICO

The Mexican resorts of Los Cabos and Riviera Maya offer white sandy beaches, breathtaking views, fun-filled nights and relaxing days. In other words, sheer bliss. Also known as 'Land's End', Los Cabos is located on the tip of the southern Baja California Peninsula and is a favourite destination of A-list celebrities like George Clooney and Jennifer Aniston. Riviera Maya, its cousin to the east, is equally blessed with natural beauty along its 135km of coastline, which brings together the Caribbean Sea and the Yucatan jungle.

WHAT TO DO

Declared a World Heritage Site by UNESCO, the spectacular Mayan ruins at Tulum combine adventure with incredible cliff-top views of the Caribbean Sea. Below is Paradise Beach, considered one of the best beaches in the Riviera Maya (the clue's in the name), from which you can take an excursion to the Mesoamerican Reef Barrier. This is a key part of the Sian Ka'an Biosphere Reserve, which measures half a million hectares, covering beaches, coral reefs, rainforest, dunes and natural wells.

WHERE TO STAY

Awarded 5 Diamonds by the AAA, Grand Velas Los Cabos offers spacious ocean view suites with private terraces, infinity pools, stunning views of the ocean, water's edge walks and an indulgent spa. Quality is also the watchword at Grand Velas Riviera Maya, where you can ditch your wedding diet and enjoy gourmet cuisine prepared by renowned chefs, and completely relax in the holistic spa.
